

HalfTime by Bob Buford <http://disciplemen.com/node/1215>

Bob Buford believes the second half of your life can be better than the first. Much better. But first, you need time to figure out what you want to do with the rest of your life. So he recommends that the reader call a "halftime" to reflect not only on where he is going, but why. In HalfTime, Buford focuses on this important time of transition-the time when, as he says, a person moves beyond the first half of the game of life, It's halftime, a time of revitalization and for catching new vision for living the second, most rewarding half of life.

Life is many things, but it is definitely not a flow chart. We prove it every day. We deeply long for change, but formulas and seminars don't get it done. The good news is, God is at work across the life span, encouraging us and empowering us to overcome the hurdles of our past, the challenges of our present and the fears of our future.

The Transformation of a Man's Heart is a book of stories: twelve men write from their hearts about their own journey toward transformation.

Four Pillars of a Man's Heart <http://disciplemen.com/node/1732>

Many of us will never be standing in front of a Colonel's desk when we make a life/career decision. Stu Weber did and he uses that moment as his pattern to offer great insight to the decision making process men incorporate throughout their life. Decisions which impact family, career, personal happiness as well as all areas of why men do what they do are discussed. The key dynamic of this resource, which is excellent for personal or group use, is the need to be balanced in every key area or "position" we find our self's daily. Numerous biblical illustrations are given throughout and all who read it will be enriched.

We live in a time of crisis regarding marriage and the family, and only by a return to the biblical foundation can these institutions be rebuilt. To provide an integrated, biblical treatment of the full range of marriage and family issues, the authors of God, Marriage, and Family examine what Scripture says about God's purposes for humans in their marriage and family interactions. Their examination covers the special issues stemming from marriage, childrearing, singleness, homosexuality, and divorce and remarriage. With study questions and points for further discussion, this book is a comprehensive yet concise resource for anyone seeking a Scriptural response to our culture's complex challenges to God's intentions for marriage and family.

Do you long to be close to God? To walk in His ways? To capture His joy and excitement for your life someone once said, "Life is in the details." This certainly holds true when it comes to our spiritual walks. Many times the difference between the man who has a faith that is alive and vibrant and the man who feels alone and apart from God is linked to how they approach the regular disciplines of their spiritual walk. Living Life in the Zone, A 40 day Spiritual Game Plan for Men
<http://disciplemen.com/node/1802>

I believe this study will become one of the most widely used resources within men's ministry. In today's sports saturated society with personal sport competitiveness oozing from every pore be it golf, softball, hoops, or fishing men are wired to compete. This 40 day study will appeal to any man or group of men who wish to strengthen their understanding, and walk with the Lord. The daily readings are packed with scripture and application opportunities and the information on sports personalities is very interesting. It is a great way to introduce solid spiritual principles to men no matter where they are in life.

A great way to relate the truth of "what are we doing here?" Biblical support per key area of discussion along with timely and "current" dynamics from today's world. I believe this is a great resource to consider for any start up group or somewhat "static" group.
